About Liquid Bead Blasting

Liquid bead blasting offers a different variety of possibilities than traditional dry blasting. With the addition of water and our blend of media, delicate features can be preserved and small parts can be cleaned without damage.

Why Us?

Here at 911 Blasters, we strive to go above and beyond. Our unique blend of blast media provides the best finish and a quicker cleaning time. Check us out for yourself! See our contact information for ways to watch videos.

Liquid Bead Blasting

Highlighted Model MODEL 500

The Model 500 is manufactured completely in house with high quality materials and parts.

We stand behind our product! Ask us about our cabinet warranty and the lifetime warranty offered on our custom-made nozzles!

What's the difference?

If you have ever done any type of dry blasting or even used plain sandpaper, you know that it does not give you a smooth finish. This image to the left shows the difference between dry blasting and liquid bead blasting.

You can still paint and cover an item like you would after dry blasting. The difference is the finish is better, there is no dust, and it can even be quicker! Tell us that doesn't convince you...

The Model 500 includes a rolling stand, 2 refills of media abrasive, and a manual to get you started.

Inside you will find an LED light for better working space and a removable shelf for easy cleaning.

See our website or contact our staff for more information about warranty and price as it is subject to change.
